THE awards race is on with businesses exploring their Award options at Harlequins Rugby Monday with Chamber CEO Anne Newton.

She said: "Businesses who enter awards strengthen their business processes, stakeholder relationships, products, services, team morale and increase customers' delight resulting in vastly improved profitability and sales; a win-win for us all as our regional economy and community prosper as a consequence."

So use August to "brush-off those entries and join the race for our 14 very special awards".

Seminar delegates were encouraged to prepare their entries offline to review all perspectives, tighten responses, metrics and narrative and only then publish their answers online at richmond-businessawards.com/enter.

Remember to share your financials and any other relevant data in confidence, as this is seen only by the independent judges and no one else.

Encourage colleagues and customers to vote for you in the People's Choice category, as this is a fantastic Award to win.

It's currently an 'open field' and could be anyone's win, so cast your votes for your favourites at richmondbusinessawards.com/peoples-choice-award/

Are you looking for a part-time or full time office administrator role in the well respected independent business organisation covering South West London region?

Are you organised, professional with a customer service, commercial background and solid Microsoft Office, people and business communication skills?

Then we want to hear from you. Please send your CV in confidence to Anne Newton ceo@richmond-chamberofcommerce.co.uk

Excitement grows for World Cup

With England Head Coach Eddie Jones announcing his squad earlier this week, which included two Harlequins players in Joe Marler and Kyle Sinckler, anticipation is building for the Rugby World Cup in Japan.

However, you don't have to travel to Asia to see world class rugby action this autumn. A 2019/20 Harlequins Member ensures that you have the best seats in the house to see the Club's host of stars take centre stage range of exciting domestic and European competitions, including the Gallagher Premiership, the Heineken Champions Cup and the Premiership Rugby Cup. You can also guarantee your seat to see Harlequins Women changing the game in elite women's rugby as they look to secure their first Tyrrells Premier 15s title. To find out more on purchasing a Membership, head to tickets.quins.co.uk or call the Harlequins Ticketing Office on 020 8410 6010.
